WAS IT A SUICIDE?

the Suspension Bridge Into the River-A Number of Rumors About the Case.

caused in certain parts of the city by a report that a man had committed suicide by jumping from the suspension bridge into the river. The report spread, and seemed to grow as it spread, until rumor of the most rediculous and exaggerated nature were generally current. An INTEL LIGENCER reporter got the story in the earliest stage of its development over the telephone line from the Island. It was said that two ladies had passed the man just before he jumped, had seen him amp, and had beared the noise caused by triking the surface of the water, ladies' names were given as Tracy and Mrs. Hamilton, their residence was said on South Penn street, whither the

and their residence was said to be on South Penn street, whither the reporter hied, stopping at the toll-house on route. The innates of the toll-house seemed to think the truth of the story extremely doubtful. Once on the Island, however, we had no difficulty in finding scores of people who believed the story, to whom, indeed, it had never occurred to question its truth. The two ladies who were reported to be witnesses of the fatal leap, were found without difficulty, and they told their story in the most straightforward and coherent manner.

About a quarter past nine they were crossing the bridge toward home, when one of them saw a man clinging to one of the fron supports outside the balustrade, on the north side of the bridge. He was at a point just west of the highest part of the such of the bridge, immediately beneath the lamp, and therefore in the shadow, which made a clear view of him extremely difficult. The ladies were naturally startled at seeing a man in so unusual a position. It first occurred to them that he had secreted himself for the purpose of making an assault upon some passer by. But just itter they had bassed, and while they accreted ninser for the passer by. But just after they had passed, and while they were looking back to get a better view of nim, the man let himself down from the support, swung out over the water, deliberately let go his hold, and fell down,

DOWN TO DEATH. Instante fell they said he uttered a most agonizing sound, and this was twice repeated before they heard the loud splash that announced that his body had struck the water. The ladies were of course alarmed and shocked by the occurrence, and they made the best of their way to the house of a friend on Virginia street. They had a good look at the man, and gave a somewhat particular description of him. He wore a light straw hat, a black dress coat, white shirt or vest, and a white collar with a black necktie. He impress-ed them as being of rather broad build, though owing to his stooping posture they could form no idea of his height. At the time of the fall the bridge was almost entirely bare of passers. The two Messrs. Beamer, father and son, of the Island, were a short distance behind Mrs.

Messrs. Beamer, father and son, of the Island, were a short distance behind Mrs. Hamilton and her sister, and distinctly heard the splash. Several boys in bathing at the river-side below, also professed 40 have heard the fall, and to have seen the light gleam on the waves caused by the body striking the water.

On his way to the Island the reportermet a gentleman who had heard of a man's having been seen on Water street who professed to have leaped from the bridge for a wager. In tracing up this rumor we ran across another man who claimed to have seen the hero of the exploit at the Huseman House. He described him, and he answered the described him, and he answered the description given by the ladies very closely. He said his clothes were wet, and he showed every sign of the truth of his story. At the Huseman house, however, in a manner that impressed the hearer with its insincerity, and raised a suspicion that there was more knowledge in that vicinity than information.

Be it as it may, however, it is no joke to all of the 1877 companies will have served out their terms of enlistment and will be discharged, and it is not likely that they will reenlist, as there is no possible inducement so to do under the conservative policy of the legislature of this State, and unless the next legislature does something there will soon be no militia within the whole State.

To the Readers of the Intelligencer.

It is well known that hot weather brings sickness and that the greatest care is necessary to prevent disorders even on the part of those most healthy. What there is in the heat that should cause disease cannot certainly be known, but cholera, dysentery, debility, lassitude, vertigo and many other sudden and dangerous maladies come every season and cause great suffering and thousands of deaths. Few people go through the Summer without and thousands of deaths. Few people go through the dummer without unpleasant symptoms. The mouth becomes dry and parched, the tongue furred with white, the pulse irregular, the head feverish, the body cramped and limbs swollen and tired Ladies especially, with toeir natural delicacy and-tendency to female troubles, find the hot weather almost unbearable, while little Children are dying every day from exhaustion and because Parents neglect precatton and care. A prominent and well known pby-sician of New York asserts as his positive belief that more than three-fourths of all so-called Summer complaints arise from disordered secretions, and that these secretionary organs, which, by being out of order cause so much trouble, are the kidneys and liver. The brain controls the life, but the lower part of the body rules the health.

There is one, and only one known vegetable that will absolutely regulate and control the Kidneys and Liver at all times and thus prevent the many dangers of the Summer. That vegetable (a West India leaf,) is used as the basis of Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Cure. It is pure, pleasant to the taste and absolutely certain in its results. It keeps those who intelligently use it in perfect health, and cures those whose secretions are deranged. For all unlary complaints of either sex it is infallible. For all bilious troubles it is certain. For the hot season it is invaluable and every person of care and intelligence should not fail to keep Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Cure near at hand, and use it upon the approach of the slightest symptoms.

It may save your life or that of some dear friend; it will certainly prevent much suffering. It is for sale by druggists in all parts of the world; be careful and take no other. "A word to the wise is sufficient."
